This value for 1829 was $38,090,969, of which $16,284,282, or 48.8 per cent, which $16,284,282, or 48.8 per cent, represents the value of animal products, and $21,896,687, or 57.2 per cent, the value of crops, including forest products cut or produced on farms. The total value of farm products for 1899 exceeds that for 1889 by $19.684,843, or 180.2 per cent. A portion of this increase is doubtless due to a more detailed enumeration in 1909 than in 1890.

The "gross farm income" is obtained by deducting from the total value of farm products the value of the products fed to live stock on the farms of the producers. In 1899 the reported value of products fed was $5,194,721, leaving $31,896,248 as the gross farm income. The ratio which this amount bears to the "total value of farm property" is referred to in this bulletin as the "per-centage of gross income upon invest-For Oregon in 1899 it was 18.5 ment. per cent.

As no reports of expenditures for exes, interest, insurance, feed for stock, and similar items have been obtained by any census, no statement of net farm income can be given.

"Ever notice how a song will go with an audience if it arouses the memory of a pleasing taste?" asked the first-nighter. "Take that little song on the New York roof. Goes something like this:

""Everybody's awful good to me,
Doncher know
I'm as sweet as any girl can ba,
Doncher know.
They took away my oatneal,
But instead they gave me "FORCE";
Everybody's awful good to me.

"Tune's nothing extra; no sentiment; nothing particularly funny in it—yet every night the house goes wild. Only one way I can explain it. "FORCE" is a mighty good breakfast food; has a dainty, delicate flavor, is crisp and flaky—just the kind of a dish that a man's glad to see when he sits down to breakfast from force of habit and not because he wants to eat. It leaves a mighty pleasant taste, and, to my mind, it's the memory of that in perfect condition

pleasant taste that causes the audience to appreciate so thoroughly that little song." "FORCE" is a combination of the whole of the wheat and barley malt. Wheat contains all elements necessary for the sustenance and proper regulation of every organ of the body. It combines these elements in such proportions that no organ is overworked or undersity exercised in the processes of digestion and assimilation Because malt is blended with the whole of the wheat, "FORCE" is a perfect food for the overworked or under-exercised stomach, as well as for the stomach in perfect health. Malt is the best natural tonic. In the manufacture of "FORCE" various chemical changes take place in both the wheat and malt which ordinarily are brought about in the first stages of normal and healthy digestion. This food, therefore, is quickly and easily assimilated, but still gives the various organs of the body sufficient exercise to keep them.

"FORCE" requires no cooking, and is delicious cold or warm.
